

Limpopo Department of Cooperative Governance, South Africa

Limpopo is the northernmost province of South Africa. It is prone to floods, windstorms, hailstorms, thunderstorms, mudslides, dam failures, cyclones and lightning. In April 2012, the Limpopo Department of Cooperative Governance launched a disaster risk reduction campaign. A team comprised of communication and disaster officials interacted with communities and distributed pamphlets on various hazards.

There were several ‘roadshows’ at major gathering places. ‘By the end of the campaign, more than one million people were reached contributing to an increased resilience of some of the most vulnerable communities,’ said Mr Nkomotana Clifford Motsepe, from the Cooperative Governance, Human Settlements and Traditional Affairs and Member of the province’s Executive Council.
